HOME GUIDE INTERIOR DESIGN

338 Bukit Batok.

This 4 room flat uses black as a dominant colour to create a sleek and minimal effect. Concealed storage and shoe cabinets keep clutter out of sight, maintaining an air of elegance throughout the home.

Strategically placed recessed niches create visual interest and depth for functional or decorative elements. Perfect as a den for movie lovers, the rich, leathery brown sofa offers a warm cosy contrast to the sophisticated setup.

Created for someone who enjoys gatherings, the modern chairs and solid stone table facilitate conversation over food. Abstract and industrial-like fixtures contrast with the rest of the smooth surfaced cabinets, illuminating the area into life.

Spacious cabinets in the kitchen maximise the storage space, eliminating potential clutter. The long kitchen counter visually elongates the kitchen creating an airy and inviting hub for food and drinks.

“Sometimes
the most productive thing you can do is relax”

The master bedroom is attached to a walk-in wardrobe designed for perfect organisation. Functional lights are positioned to subtly illuminate the wardrobe for effortless access and grandeur. A self pampering bath area is created with a shower and tub combination for ultimate relaxation and space maximisation.

Yio Chu Kang Road.

This bright and airy semi-detached extends a cheery invitation to all guests with the full length glass panels ushering in natural rays into the living area. Warm tones of wood and textured sofa fabric work together to make the space cosier.

This home boasts an all white dry kitchen with contrasting wood grain laminates that tie the space together by establishing depth and warmth. The built-in cabinets and oven ensures a streamlined and seamless layout, making it an ideal spot to grab a quick breakfast to kick start the day.

A quirky sliding wooden barn door against the dark green wall marks the entrance to the master bedroom.

One is greeted by a sleek walk-in wardrobe hidden behind mirrored doors that create an illusion of a larger space. Wood furniture adds warm tones to the space and also serves as a private workstation.

“There is no place like home”

The master bathroom is a sophisticated harmony of natural stone, wood and marble-like finishes that serve to visually demarcate the different grooming areas. The suspended vanity with adjacent sinks is a luxurious and functional space that allows the senses to relax.

327 River Valley.

The wet and dry kitchens are partitioned by sliding doors that opens up to a large and airy space. The kitchen island is furnished to introduce modernistic accent using bar chairs and copper light fixtures.

“Home is wherever I’m with you”

In the master bedroom, luxe oriental elements like the hanging lights and intricate bed head reflect the aesthetic taste of the home owners. The decorative rug and the gold accent from the floor length curtain drapes tie the look together.

The master bathroom is a work of art, boasting exquisite white marble across the walls and floor. A sleek bathtub sits invitingly at the entrance of the private restful sanctuary, drawing one for a good soak after a long day of work.

The bathroom houses a separate rain shower area and is paired with a contrasting dark wood vanity. His and hers sinks lend a touch of glamour and sophistication.

621 Bukit Batok.

The kitchen was modelled to fulfill the homeowner's love for cooking, baking and hosting loved ones. Neutral toned wood and cool greys brighten up the space and visually makes the kitchen appear larger.

The island unit is quintessential in different forms of food preparation, and is strategically placed near the stove and oven. Extensive built-in cabinets maintain a clean and clutter free space. Topping it off, an in-built wine fridge makes serving family and friends effortless.

“The fondest memories
are made when gathered
table”

The wood and grey hues are extended to the living and dining area, where the TV feature wall is flanked with bronze tinted mirrors, of which one slides open to a shoe cabinet. The grand dining table sets the scene for a perfect hearty meal and conversation. Marble flooring and the matching coffee table top complete the simple 5-room flat with class.

783B Woodlands Rise.

This 4-room BTO HDB apartment is a calm oasis fashioned with blue and grey hues. The bright turquoise recessed niche lends a vibrant yet casual vibe to the space. The playful addition of geometric printed artworks and pillow throw covers inspired by Terrazzo finishes the overall look.

The master bedroom maintains the same tranquility with streamlined unobtrusive storage solutions. Multiple mirrored surfaces are employed in the bathroom as an optical illusion to make the space appear larger.

“Happiness is Homemade”

To make the most of the available space, a small yet highly functional dining area was set adjacent to the kitchen unit. A clear glass partition and door are used as dividers to create spatial depth and showcase the kitchen.

Kitchen work flow is achieved with parallel arrangement of kitchen countertops, facilitating a seamless flow from preparation to cooking.

TAP ON OUR EXPERTISE IN OFFICE & RETAIL SPACES

Effektiv Systems Solution.

An open concept office with a modern industrial style for both the desks and conference area encourages collaboration in the work environment. Indigo blue cabinets frame the office space and the contrasting shades of warm tones brings the office design together. Custom-made track lightings with wood features are hung from the ceiling to keep the office space looking vibrant and dynamic.

My Smile Dental.

Soothing colours are always a good idea for a dental clinic to allow patients to relax while waiting. Light toned wood is used for the counter at the reception area, topped with a quirky hanging light over the counter.

In the treatment room, a special ceiling screen is installed for patients to watch videos and be at ease during any procedures. Custom made cabinets were built in each room to ensure sufficient storage space for treatment materials.

The X-ray room is well protected with lead insulation in the wall partitions to keep both staff and patients safe. The setup required an extensive sourcing of material and experienced floor space planning to ensure safety standards were met.

Asia Digestive Associates @Napier.

A clear passage from the clinic entrance is created via a simple and open layout, allowing patients and staff to walk around.

Storage solutions are made seamless with floor to ceiling cabinets

A colour palette of white, cream and turquoise creates a calm waiting space for patients and this is replicated in the treatment rooms.
